Rick Gehr

A newcomer to San José, capital of Costa Rica, might be surprised to see an ox cart carrying firewood, moving slowly through the traffic-filled streets, or to see the National Theater with its beautiful construction, typical of the late eighteen hundreds, and in the background the modern, tall Central Bank.

This is Costa Rica, a rapidly progressing country, but still with a taste for its traditions.

The school system of Costa Rica is expanding and the need for new teachers is greater every year. This year, in my school, there was such a lack of substitutes that we were let out of at least five classes a week. To counteract this problem, the government is working on experimental schools which start in the first grade and whose courses and teachers try to lead the student to a specific profession, which many times turns out to be teaching. This year, the teachers' school in Heredia had a graduating class of about four hundred, and other similar schools had equally large graduating classes. Many vocational schools are in use where the student takes only about nine subjects instead of the regular thirteen or fourteen, enabling him to use, for instance, the shop and technical drawing facilities more.

Keeping up with the better schooling demand is something that must be done, and they are working on it. There are customs and traditions, however, that they wouldn't change for the world. One such tradition is the "Corridas de Toros." Each year a temporary stadium is built for use during the Christmas holiday season. The stadium surrounds an arena in the middle of which is a pool of water. Then, any male who wants to, goes into the arena; usually there are about 150 or so. A trumpet is then blown and a mad bull charges in. Of course, you can figure out the object ...run!

It gives everyone a chance to be a toreador and if they aren't quite as good as they figured, there is always the pool of water for refuge. It's really a riot, dangerous, of course, with always about 200 injuries a year; but as I said, they wouldn't change it for the world!

Hola to everyone,
Rick Gehr

Opportunities Open for Special Students

The Work-Study Program, initiated three years ago, enables students to receive on-the-job training, from which they can learn basic skills. The curriculum, offered to students from age 17 to 21, consists of three hours of classroom work taught by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Craparo and three hours working for a private employer. The program has successfully prepared students for future vocations.

Students Learn Fundamentals Through English Department

The English department gained two new teachers this year, Miss Duncan and Miss Churchill. Three student teachers from Oneonta and Cortland taught during the first semester.

The Phoenix Theatre presented "An American Family Album" on Friday, October 27, 1967. After the show, workshops were held by the Phoenix players for juniors and seniors.

Most of the English faculty attended the New York State English Teachers Association meeting held at Maine-Endwell High School in September. Chenango Valley also sent representatives to the New York State English Council Conference held in New York City in April.

The special reading classes taught by Miss O'Connor and supervised by Mr. Vairo, helped students through the use of special machines equipped to train students from pre-primer through college level. Words can be read up to one thousand words a minute by the controlled reader. Filmstrips are also used to improve the student's speed and comprehension.

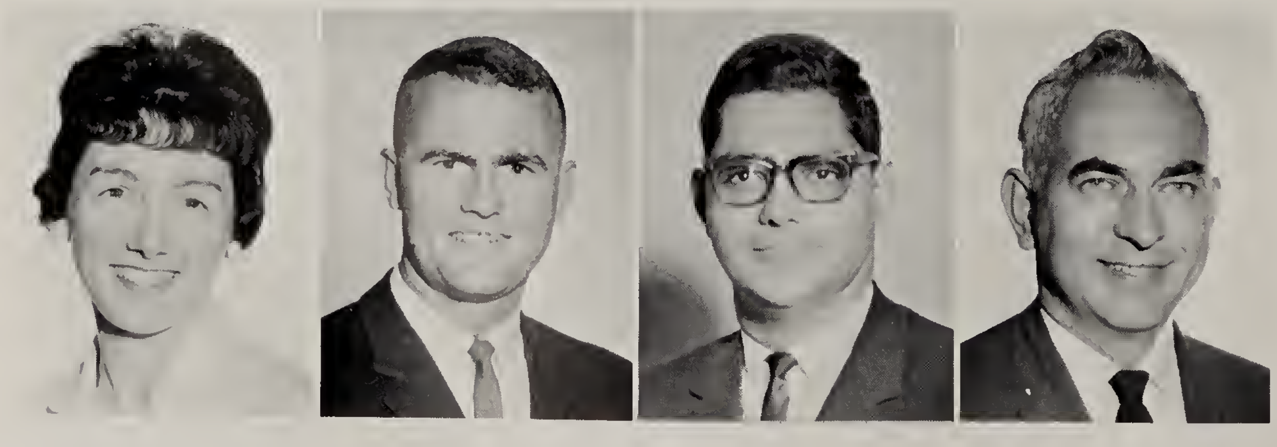
This year the Math Department completed its second year of a fully modern math curriculum from kindergarten through the senior year.

No new courses having been added, seniors again took math 12X, a "modern mathematical analysis" and the Advanced Placement Math course. Taught by Mr. Tosh, the 15-member Advanced Placement class qualified for college credit by taking the examination in May.

Extracurricular activities, under the direction of the Math Department, included Mathletics, a timed problem solving competition among area schools, and Junior High Math Club, both under the supervision of Mr. Vianese.



Miss Mary Quinn, Marywood College; Mr. Barry Tosh, Penn State; Mr. Thomas Vianese, Albany State; Mr. Leon Woodworth, Oswego State.

Better Facilities Improve Laboratories

To facilitate the growing number of students interested in taking science courses and to fill the need for improved science facilities, new biology and chemistry laboratories were built this year. Several classrooms were combined to make these laboratories much larger than the previous laboratories.

For those who wish to continue in a specialized field of study, senior high courses in biology, chemistry, physics, and Advanced Placement Biology are offered. Chemistry Regents are still based on the state's experimental course.

Four new teachers have been added to this year's staff. Mrs. Avis Reed is teaching junior high science. Mr. Tobias Polgreen is also a junior high science and math teacher. Mr. William Ames and Mr. Thomas Kleeman teach senior high science: Mr. Ames took over the leadership of the physics classes and Mr. Kleeman is teaching Advanced Placement Biology and general science.

Mr. Kleeman ponders his profession as a science teacher.

As advisor of Chess Club, Mr. Croman aids Barry Kelly in a game of chess.

Mrs. Press performs two phases, research and exploration, of her duties as a language teacher.

Efficiency Emphasized

The Business Department, headed by Mr. James Wheeler, offers courses essential for a prosperous career in business. Bookkeeping, Office and Secretarial Practice, Business Law, Typing, and Shorthand are the fundamental divisions of this department.

Row 1: Mrs. Marion Cook, Albany State; Mrs. Rose-Marie Fox, Rider College. Row 2: Mrs. Marcia James, Skidmore College; Mr. Frank Kaminsky, Bloomsburg State. Row 3: Mr. James Wheeler, Chairman, Hartwick College; Mrs. Virginia Zellner, New York University.

Linguistic Skill Valuable

Foreign languages broaden a student's life by showing him the way people live in other parts of the world. The ability to speak and understand another language is invaluable.

Miss Baker and Miss Creagh, both French teachers, are new to the department this year.

Besides teaching a language, these teachers travel during the summer to become more influential in it. Miss Baker spent her summer in France and Mrs. Press spent her summer in Europe.

The language department sent representatives to the New York State Federation of Teachers at the Concord Hotel and to the Northeast Conference in New York City.

In addition to teaching classes, these teachers also lead clubs. The French club, led by Mrs. Press, took a trip to Quebec, and the Russian club, led by Mrs. Roussyan, took a trip to Tolstoi Farm this spring. The Spanish club, led by Mrs. Fernandez, undertook many projects this year.

Development
of Vital

The Industrial Department, under the leadership of Mr. DeCastro, is hopeful of new facilities in the near future. Construction on permanent shops for both junior and senior high students was scheduled for this year.

With the completion of these new shops, one year courses in the field of Power Mechanics, Plastics, Ceramics, Industrial Drawing and Photography will be introduced.

The Home Economics Department, under the direction of Miss Millen, again sponsored the Faculty Tea.

Skills Emphasized

The tea, prepared by members of the Future Homemakers of America, was presented before Christmas vacation.

This department has expanded beyond the traditional fields of sewing and cooking. New courses now being offered are nutrition, health, textiles, grooming, interior decorating, family relationships, child development, and the wise use of time and money.

Music and Art Taught Enthusiastically

Two new musical groups were started this year. Together with the Senior and Junior Bands and the Stage Band, they put on a very successful assembly. The Madrigals is a group of students who sing chamber music without accompaniment. They dress in the costumes of the era of their selections. The Pop group is formed by students who sing current pop and jazz tunes to the accompaniment of the Stage Band.

Miss Papa and Miss Hibner, two new physical education teachers, were added to Chenango Valley's staff.

The new swimming pool was finished in February. Classes started in the pool shortly thereafter, with the senior high boys swimming first.

"Health is Wealth," Mr. Wilson's favorite saying, is one that most of his students learn to respect. Mr. Wilson's active involvement of the student in discussion promotes much interest.

The principles of defensive driving and safety procedures were emphasized by Mr. McDaniel and Mr. Durbin as the way toward proper and skillful driving. Two new cars were purchased for continuation of these principles.

Students Meet the Challenge

Mr. Miller points out the varied aspects of politics at the Party A Convention.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year the officers of Student Council were elected for the first time under the two-party system. Each party selected its slate of candidates and platform at a party convention in the spring. The use use of the two-party system was continued this year. This system was initiated to provide experience in politics for Chenango Valley students.

The members participated in an Area Exchange Day this year for the first time. Chenango Valley sent Student Council members to other schools and they sent some of their members to our school for one day. This was done to promote friendship between the area schools and to learn how our school can be bettered by comparing it with other schools.

Student Council also provided Thanksgiving dinners for needy families and helped sponsor the Homecoming Dance.

An Active Year of Fun and Learning

Three students from Chenango Valley were chosen last year to travel, live, and study in a foreign country for a year under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club.

Rick Gehr, who would be a senior this year, traveled to Heredia, Costa Rica, a small town with a commercial section and several parks with fountains and bandstands. The Costa Ricans befriended the "gringo" (their word for an American) immediately, and Rick soon became an avid coffee drinker after accepting invitations to come over for coffee as soon as they met him.

Marsha Jones, a junior, spent her year in the second largest city in Bolivia, Cochabamba, which is located in a small valley in the Andes Mountains. In February, after her summer vacation, she started school in the Anglo-Americano and took fifteen required subjects.

Melbourne, Australia, was Nancy Hohl's home this year. Nancy, a junior, toured several areas of the continent including Sydney and the capital, Canberra, where she met the U.S. Ambassador to Australia.

New Experiences and Culture in U.S.

Two Rotary-sponsored exchange students came to C.V. this year to study. Virginia "Vicki" Ruiz arrived on August 19, 1967 from Cochabamba, Bolivia, and Mary McKenna arrived from Melbourne, Australia, in January. Both were members of the junior class.

Vicki first became interested in coming to the United States through newspaper articles. She had read much about the U.S. and wanted to learn more. She hoped to get to know many new people and to improve her English. She said that C.V. was "very different" from her school in Bolivia; here we have more "good materials" such as textbooks. Vicki's ambition is to teach elementary school, probably one of the primary grades. Her favorite sport is swimming, but at C.V. she enjoyed watching both football and basketball games. Snow was another new experience for Vicki, but she soon grew to like it. Summing up her stay, Vicki said, "It was very nice here, and a good experience."

Mary, the oldest of eleven children, saved money along with her parents in order to come to America. Her parents sent her as a token of appreciation for her help in raising her many brothers and sisters.

Jay Barber and Vicki Ruiz prepare to cut the cake at Vicki's welcoming reception.

Honor Societies Continue Services

Senior Honor Society was active this year under the leadership of President Craig Harting, Vice-President Lynne O'Brien, Secretary Suzanne Requa, and Treasurer Jennifer Mason. In the fall, the club provided refreshments on Open House Night. As their main project, they adopted a Korean-American orphan and worked to raise money for his support. They also acted as guides for the sixth grade orientation in the spring.

Junior Honor Society, with President Margaret Boehmke, Vice-President Margaret Goldberger, Secretary Diane Benko, and Treasurer Terry Davis, carried out a wide variety of activities. They acted as guides at Open House, and helped out with refreshments. They adopted a family in South Vietnam, and also took on a project at State Hospital at Easter.

Key Club initiated and managed the drive for an outdoor scoreboard for football and baseball this year. By using the contributions of clubs and classes it was possible to purchase the scoreboard. Key Club distributed programs at sports events to help finance the project.

Key Club also sponsored the annual King Football Dance and provided books for sale in the bookstore.

This year Varsity Club, under the leadership of President Bud Sweet, Vice-President Bill Perkins, Secretary Andy Sopchak, and Treasurer Mark Lomonaco, sent members to a National Basketball Association game and to the Heptagonals.

The club co-sponsored the Homecoming Dance with Student Council. Varsity Club members also served as guides on Open House Night.

Fitness, Skill, Leadership Stressed

Among the many activities of Senior Leader's Club were working on concession stands at home football games and coat check at home basketball games. In December they held a successful dance to raise money, of which they contributed part to the Cancer and Heart Funds, and part toward the purchase of a scoreboard for the school. They also planned a day trip later in the spring.

Members of Junior Leader's Club helped out the gym teachers this year by assisting them during gym classes and officiating at intramurals. Traditionally they have shared the basketball coat check with the Senior Leaders, and this year they were given full responsibility of it after the first few games.

Starting in January, every Thursday night found Gymnastic Club members busily practicing in the gym for a fitness demonstration given in May.

In May, the club sponsored a trip to South Fallsburg, N.Y., to the Shakespeare Festival, where Julius Caesar was presented.

Also, several members were selected in the spring to travel to New York City to attend two Broadway plays.

The year's activities provided a variety of opportunities for students interested in acting, directing, set design, construction, costuming, make-up, and prompting.

Debate Club had a successful year with President Dan Parrotte, Vice-President Sue Benning, Secretary Maria Peach, and Treasurer Dave Weir. In the fall, the club attended a tournament at Richfield Springs. In January, Chenango Valley teams placed third in a tournament held at Catholic Central. In March, teams traveled to a state tournament at Oneonta to compete for a trophy. The club also held an assembly for the student body. The topic, chosen by the students themselves, was Resolved: New York State Should Lower the Voting Age to 18.

History Club officers for this year were President Jeannette Smith, Secretary Debbi Copeland, and Treasurer Steve Gilbert. Among their many activities this year were the sponsoring of movies and the Parent-Teacher basketball game. They also planned a spring trip to Boston.

Say It With Music

The Pop Singers are a new singing group to C.V. this year. Made up of chosen students from the Senior Chorus, this group concentrates on singing pop music.

The Madrigal Singers specialize in singing madrigals, and pastoral songs written about the 16th century. These songs are more difficult to sing because they have several different voice parts. This year, besides singing at school assemblies, the group was asked to sing for several outside groups. To add an air of authenticity to their performances, they designed and made their own costumes.

The Senior Chorus is composed of students in grades 9-12. This year they prepared music for a Christmas assembly and for competition in May. They also planned a trip to New York City in the spring.

The Junior Chorus is made up of students in grades 7-9. Among their activities this year was the preparation of music for the Christmas assembly.

"And the Band Played On . . ."

The Senior Band, under the direction of Mr. Fako and drum majorette Pat Lawrence, entertained football fans during halftime last fall. The band also marched in several local parades. At the end of the football season, the band held their third annual Band Dinner for all band members and their parents. In February they held a Pancake Day, for which members baked and served pancakes. Band officers for 1967-1968 were President David Korinek, Vice-President Gary Allen, Secretary Sharon Knapp, and Treasurer Pat Lawrence.

The Stage Band, under the direction of Mr. Buchmaier, played at the Junior Prom of the Class of '68 and at the Talent Show.

“Showboats” of Band

Senior Twirling Club was active this year with co-captains Elaine Miner and Wendy Reid. During the summer of 1967, the club took a trip to Montreal. In the fall, they marched with the Senior Band in halftime shows at football games and in parades. On March 16, they participated in a twirling contest open to all twirlers within a 300-mile radius and competed for a trophy.

The Color Guard, with Cheryl Randall as Color Sergeant, expanded its membership to eight in the fall. They also marched with the band in halftime shows and in parades, and they accompanied the band on a trip to New York in the spring.

First Year in the STAC

This year's football team finished its season with a record of no wins, seven losses, and one tie. This, however, did not reflect the effort put into practice and games. A large part of the difficulty was the stiffer competition encountered in the newly-formed STAC.

The outstanding ability of the defensive team, one of Chenango Valley's best ever, was shown throughout the season, and especially in the contest with undefeated Vestal. The unpredictable Warriors were the only team capable of holding Vestal scoreless during the first half, and held a halftime margin of 6-0 as they scrambled into the locker room. Our gridmen were overepowered by the strong Golden Bear offense in the third and fourth quarters, however, and succumbed in a 19-6 loss. The excellent defense was a result of the efforts of linemen Andy Sopchak, winner of an All-STAC Honorable Mention, John Wright, John Zellner, John Burtis, Craig Smith, Bill Perkins, and Gene Flint. Defensive backs Craig Harting, Mike Phillips, Bill Comfort, Bob Warfield, and Joe Casey carried out efficient pass defense.

Linemen on the offensive team included Don McPartland, Bob Bennet, Andy Sopchak, Jim Popeck, Tom Cross, Bill Perkins, Joe Kendrick, Craig Harting, and Bob Warfield. Backfield starters included Dan Conrad, Jay Barber, Dick Knapp, and Terry Holcomb.

Underclass Gridmen Gain Experience

Under the direction of Coaches Ed Banks, Tim O'Hare and Fred Colosi, the Freshman teams began to learn the fundamentals of football. Interscholastic competition gave the players experience they will need in future years.

The A Team had a one win, five loss record, beating Johnson City and losing to Maine Endwell, North, Union-Endicott, Susquehanna Valley, Owego, and Vestal.

B Team Warriors defeated Chenango Forks and Owego, but lost to Union Endicott, North, and MacArthur.

Harriers Remain Undefeated in Dual Meets

The Chenango Valley Cross Country team this year continued the distinction of being undefeated in dual meets since the sport began here by winning races with Susquehanna Valley, Owego, Johnson City, and Maine-Endwell.

At the Shaker Invitational, the Warriors placed sixth, and Bud Sweet finished third in a field of fifty-six runners. The next two large meets were the Baldwinsville Invitational, where the team took ninth out of twenty-five schools, and the Sid Stock Invitational held at Arnold Park.

The Chenango Valley Invitational was won by Meyers, a team from Pennsylvania, which also won the next meet in which our harriers competed, Abington Heights. In this race, Chenango Valley took third, which began their comeback late in the season. Second places in the STAC meet and the Sectionals showed a greatly improved team.

The Junior Varsity team took first in the Sid Stock Invitational, second in the C.V. Invitational, third at Abington Heights, and first in the STAC meet.

Both the Varsity and Junior Varsity basketball teams had successful seasons this year, both compiling 11-5 records in regular STAC play. The Varsity again won the annual Sidney Christmas tournament. After capturing first place in the STAC Eastern Division, they played a sensational game against Western Division champ Vestal but lost, 68-65.

The team was sparked by All STAC star Joe Kendrick, promising junior Jerry Newby, corner shooter Andy Sopchak, 6-5 center Dave Brenner, and the remaining starting spot was shared by Bud Sweet and Bill Perkins. Helping from the bench were Dick Knapp, Dale Leighton, Marty Bruet, Bob Smith, John Wright, and Dave Cox.

Joe Kendrick tied the school scoring record of 36 points and also was the third highest scoring player in the Triple Cities. Freshman Dick Barvinchak established a new J.V. scoring record of 36 points and led the team to gain first place in the STAC Eastern Division.

Grapplers Encounter Difficulty

Mark Lomonaco works for a takedown.

Coach Travis' first year brought few victories to the wrestling team as injuries and illness claimed victims in the starting lineup. Close matches were lost to Maine-Endwell, Susquehanna Valley, and Chenango Forks as a lack of upper weight power took its toll. But though the team got off to a poor start, they finished with three successive wins.

Co-captain Dale Graham was the strongest winner and, teamed with co-captain Joe Casey, centered the strength in the low middle weight classes. Dale turned in a Sectional third place and John Kopalek took a surprise fourth place.

Mr. Tosh's J.V. squad ended with a 7-6 record, and some on the J.V. team look forward to Varsity positions next year.

graduation . . . .
. . . the end . . . or the beginning?

YES . . . AND NO . . .

Graduation is the end of an era in your life.

It's also the beginning of a new era for you . . . a period when the responsibilities of adulthood suddenly appear.

"Bank standing" is something that will help you meet those responsibilities head-on. By doing business with a bank through use of checking, savings, loan or other facilities, you establish the financial reputation and maturity that today's successful person needs.

Throughout your life . . . the only bank you'll ever need is First-City.

"The Store for Men and Young Men"

TO THE SENIORS OF 1968

Another year has come and gone
at good o'le C.V. High,
And now comes the time for the class of '68
to leave and say, "good-bye"
Remember all the great, great times with teachers, books and friends
And how you were "mod" and "cool"
to keep up with the trends.

The year of 1968
those many study halls
And parents saying, "Just because you're a senior, don't let those marks take falls"
The years at Chenango Valley have filled you with knowledge,
Now you look ahead to a
"new life" at college.

Grand old '68
The "re-juvenated" school with many changes, like a brand new swimming pool.
The ice cream treats, holes in the ceiling,
Taking the car and doing some "wheeling".

Whalin' with friends,
Take in some movies,
Doing your homework,
Just being groovy.

Well, your last year at Chenango Valley is done,
You had your troubles, you had your fun,
It's all over, you've had your time,
Best of luck in your futures from the class of sixty-nine.

There are four sorts of men:

He who knows not and knows not he knows not: he is a fool—shun him;

He who knows not and knows he knows not: he is simple—teach him;

He who knows and knows not he knows: he is asleep—wake him;

He who knows and knows he knows: he is wise—follow him.
